Introduction

December 5, 2018

Ramiro Gonzalez
Chapter 1
Gaddis, T. (2019). Starting out with Python. New York, NY: Pearson

```
In [7]: print("Python programming is fun")

Python programming is fun
```

```
In [8]: print("To be or not to be")

To be or not to be
```

```
In [9]: print("That is the question")

That is the question
```

1

```
In [1]: print('This is a test of the Python interpreter')

This is a test of the Python interpreter
```

2

```
In [2]: print('This is a test of IDLE')

This is a test of IDLE
```

3

11 is 1011 65 is 0100 0001 100 is 0110 0100 255 is 1111 1111

4

1101 is 13 1000 is 8 0010 1011 is 43

5

ACII: 82 65 77 73 82 79

6

Guido van Rossum is the creator of Python. Python was created December 1989 BDFL is Benevolent Dictator For Life, it means the BDFL has decides what to add or reject to the Open Source project